

"It's kind of fun to do the impossible" is the phrase that's with me since I was a kid, it accompanies and motivates me to create the things people believe impossible, I give it all the sense, creativity and harmony things need.

Nowadays my profile inclines to Art of Design and Web Development Front-End. Even so, inside of me, I'm passionate about teaching and motivating people to not give up and prove to the world how capable they can be.

I love to talk, tell stories and socialize with people from all around the world, and thanks to that passion I've discovered the key to open the heart of the people that's talking in their own language, that's the great motivation I have to keep learning languages.

Among all my hobbies are singing and Social Media, I love to create content and interact with the people.
